The recognition is Conduent's second consecutive appearance on Newsweek's Top 100 Global Most Loved Workplaces®. The ranking is produced through collaboration with the research and analysis of Best Practice Institute (BPI), a leadership development and benchmark research company.

"Being included once again on Newsweek's Top 100 Global Most Loved Workplaces is a reflection of our commitment to creating a workplace where our associates can be themselves, grow and gain skills and make a positive difference," said Cliff Skelton, Conduent President and Chief Executive Officer. "This achievement is especially meaningful because it is based on how our associates feel about Conduent. The analysis also aligns with Conduent's core values of teamwork, communication and inclusion as we deliver valuable outcomes for our clients."

"As workplaces continue to shift, it's clearer than ever that fostering collaboration, embracing a positive outlook, and aligning values are essential. The companies celebrated on the 2024 Global Most Loved Workplaces® list truly embody these principles. They show us that by championing respect and team-oriented outcomes, they're not just building great workplaces, they're shaping a brighter future for all," said Nancy Cooper, Global Editor in Chief of Newsweek.

The results were determined after surveying more than 2 million employees from businesses with workforces varying in size from 30 to more than 10,000. The list recognizes companies that put respect, caring, and appreciation for their employees at the center of their business model and, in doing so, have earned the loyalty and respect of the people who work for them.
