The new offering combines Conduent's expertise in managing a range of payment services for public sector clients with AshBritt's experience with various disaster recovery efforts. The companies stand ready to quickly support government agencies or other organizations that help people and communities affected by natural disasters or other crises.

As a U.S. industry leader delivering electronic payments for government services in 37 states, Conduent offers instant or digital payment capabilities to agencies and other entities. Its Rapid Assistance solution can dramatically accelerate agencies' and non-profits' ability to securely deliver funds to individuals in minutes, rather than in days or weeks. Conduent can also provide chip-enabled, pre-paid debit cards – helping to ensure that those affected by disasters and crises receive aid quickly regardless of their banking status.

AshBritt is an industry leader in rapid-response logistics, such as base camps and comfort stations set up in communities. These types of facilities usually become points of distribution for those affected by a disaster, and this collaboration further expands the services that can be offered. AshBritt's senior management and technical consultants have more than 200 years of combined experience and are intimately acquainted with all facets of disaster recovery efforts, including debris removal, management, reduction, processing, recycling and disposal, as well as emergency planning, damage mitigation and risk abatement.

"This innovative new collaboration with AshBritt is a great example of how two companies can combine their unique capabilities and expertise to meet a critical need among communities nationwide," said Wade Fairey, General Manager, Payments and Child Support Solutions at Conduent. "Many natural disasters require mass distribution of funds as quickly as possible, and Conduent has deep experience in providing secure payment solutions that offer recipients near-immediate assistance. We're proud to play a role in helping those who need support."

"AshBritt is a government solutions provider always looking for new and innovative methods for delivering resources and services to communities we serve after an emergency event," said Gerardo Castillo, President, Management and Logistics at AshBritt. "This novel collaboration with Conduent, a leader in their respective industry, allows us to continue offering the clients we serve with the most effective post-emergency solutions."
