Conduent earns recognition for the third consecutive year, highlighting its dedication to culture, collaboration, and employee well-being

FLORHAM PARK, N.J.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 17, 2025-- Conduent Incorporated (Nasdaq: CNDT), a global technology-driven business solutions and services company, today announced its inclusion in Newsweek's 2025 Global Most Loved Workplaces ® list, marking its third consecutive appearance among the Top 100 companies worldwide.

Conduent was recognized for its strong workplace culture that is built on trust, respect, purpose, and employee connection. The ranking was developed through research and analysis by Best Practice Institute (BPI), drawing insights from over two million employees globally.

"It's an honor to be named one of Newsweek's Top 100 Global Most Loved Workplaces for the third consecutive year," said Cliff Skelton, President and CEO of Conduent. "This recognition is especially meaningful because it reflects how our associates truly feel about working at Conduent. We are committed to fostering a workplace culture that benefits not just our associates, but ultimately the clients and communities we serve."

Newsweek's rankings are based on employee perspectives in five key areas:

- Optimism about future growth at the company
- Career achievement opportunities
- Alignment of employer and employee values
- Respect and inclusiveness at all levels
- Collaboration and team engagement

Industry Leaders on Workplace Transformation

"As we mark five years of recognizing the world's Most Loved Workplaces ®, it's an honor to spotlight companies that place employee well-being at the center of their workplace cultures," said Jennifer H. Cunningham, Newsweek's Global Editor in Chief. "In today's rapidly changing world, this year's list reflects a growing global shift toward human-centered leadership as a key driver of resilience and success."

"This year's Global Most Loved Workplaces ® show what's possible when leaders turn employee sentiment into business strategy," said Louis Carter, BPI and Most Loved Workplaces® Founder and CEO. "From trust to purpose to collaboration, these companies are using data-driven insights to build cultures people don't want to leave. This year's Top 100 Global Most Loved Workplaces ® showcase how leading with love, trust, and alignment drives performance, loyalty, and lasting impact. We're proud to work with Newsweek to highlight their achievements on a global stage."
